combined with Western medicine, trauma & pain management, professional psychological support, exercise at the club's gym, massage, and manicures & pedicures, members of the Men's Health Club can regain their passion for life, Mercado said.

This can be done through the Men's Health Club with a tailored, personalized 10-week program, which includes a complete physical and psychological checkup and the corresponding medical treatments. Most medical plans cover the cost of the 10-week program, which otherwise is $750.

The Men's Health Club men-only space starts at the door, where one is greeted by a male receptionist and followed-up on throughout the clinic, which has three doctors, one psychologist and nurses, all of whom are men.

"I had a patient, who was a very successful businessman, but his business was dropping because of his lethargy. Once he started our program and regained his pep, this businessman said he saw a 25% increase in the productivity of his business, and we are still friends today," Mercado said. ■
